An Auto Accident

An auto accident that was attended with rather serious consequences to the occupants occurred on Sunday evening last near the Linden school, southeast of Sunnyslope. Mr. R. Karagel with Miss Karagel and Mr. Wm. Waggoner had been visiting Mr. Graf and were returning home to Sunnyslope when the car wheels skidded on an embankment and fell over. The stays of the cover fell on Mr. Waggoner, causing a double fracture of the left leg below the knee, and Miss Karagel received severe injuries to her shoulder and side. Mr. Toews of Stern brought the party into Sunnyslope and the car was taken to the General Hospital at Calgary on Monday and is being attended to by Dr. Sansom. It is likely that he will be confined to the hospital for two months.

Each grate bar has three sides-long wear

When only one side of a grate bar is continually next to the fire all the wear is concentrated on that one side. The life of the grate bar is thus naturally just one-third as long as when the wear is distributed on three sides.

That explains why Sunshine grates have three lives. Each of the four grate bars has three sides. Each time the ashes are "rocked down" (no shaking with Sunshine) the side next to the fire can be changed. Thus the life of the grates is greatly prolonged.

When desired, the heavy bull dog teeth on the grates will seize hold of clinkers, grind them up, and drop the particles into the ash-pan.

Field Crops in Canada

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The Census Bulletin shows that the conditions of field crops in Canada this year have been greatly modified by temperature and rainfall, and that between the east and the west it is hardly possible to make a statement of averages that will not be misleading. In the eastern provinces growth has been uniformly good throughout July, and the percentage of condition have been high for every crop; but in extensive tracts of the northwest provinces drought has prevailed and crops are reported in every stage of condition. The northern parts of these provinces have been largely exempt from the drought, and there the per cent. conditions are high. It is difficult to indicate fairly an average of conditions for the east and west which does not take account of the areas sown, and these have been considerably reduced since the June report. The August report will give revised figures from which yields may be estimated.

In comparing the per cent. condition of crops for 1909 and 1910 it should be remembered that fall wheat, rye, peas, buckwheat, mixed grains, beans, potatoes, hay and clover and corn are principally produced in the eastern provinces; and spring wheat and flax mostly in the north-western provinces, with oats and barley in nearly equal proportions in the two regions.

Fall wheat is grown chiefly in Ontario, and its condition for all Canada has been reduced by a relatively poor crop in Alberta. Compared with the condition at the same time last year, it is 34.43 to 79.53. Rye is 83.20 in 1910 to 81.84 in 1909; peas is 81.20 to 87; buckwheat 87.04 to 86.15; mixed grains 99.91 to 87.23; beans 84.43 to 84.33; potatoes 81 to 92; hay and clover 93.87 to 73.79; corn for husking 84.30 to 82.86; and corn for forage 89.76 to 83. These crops, which are mainly grown in the east, show a high average of condition, affected only in a slight degree by reports for the west.

The average condition of spring wheat is 77 for 1910 to 84.57 for 19.9, of oats 79.53 to 87.78 for an Canada, which is substantially lower than the average for the east. In the three northwest provinces the condition of spring wheat is 62, of oats 78.62 and of barley 64.60.

The estimated yield of fall wheat in the country is 16,724,000 bushels, being 26.47 bushels per acre. The hay and clover crop is estimated at 15,499,900 tons, or 1.86 tons per acre, and of alfalfa 1.92 tons per acre.

There is no better way of building up our town than giving to our business men our entire and exclusive patronage. The more we help each other the more we help the town.

Frost & Wood
No. 3 Binder
does Better Work

Because of the Eccentric Sprocket Wheel the No. 3 Binder makes a neater, more tightly compact bundle. The twine is less liable to break, and the bundle faster, too, than the ordinary binder. Remember, no other binder has the Eccentric Sprocket Wheel. No. 3 Binder is any other binder so light in draft. At all points where there is a possibility of friction occurring the makers of No. 3 Binder have provided Large Roller Bearings. That's why the Frost & Wood No. 3 runs so smoothly and easily, and requires less power so many more years of service. Another reason for its great durability is the strong, powerful construction of its frame, which we would like to explain to you fully. Drop in at your earliest convenience and talk this over with us. We are confident that the Frost & Wood No. 3 is the binder for you. Give us a chance to prove it.

SUMMER RECORDS OF CHILDREN'S DEATHS

Records show that for the greatest number of deaths among little ones occur during the hot summer months. The excessive heat, the difficulty in keeping the body cool, the improper diet tend towards bringing on these dreaded baby troubles: cholera, infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and other stomach and bowel troubles. In the growing up among babies Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent these dangers. If you have any trouble with them, come to me suddenly. — Mrs. O. Morris, Ste. Tite, Que., says: "My baby suffered from a severe attack of cholera infantum, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared and he regained health rapidly. The Tablets are sold in medicine stores. Price is 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brackville, Ont."

Upon Eisen's writing table a visitor saw a small tray containing a number of small pieces of dried bear, a dry stag, two or three cats or mice, a small pug (a fiddle) and some rabbits. These said, "I never tire of looking at them in remembrance without having me that tray and its occupants before me on my table. I could not write without them. But why I use them is my own secret."

BARGAINS OF LIFE.

So Long as We Live We Will Never Stop Trading.

For children are bundled in a tiny room in a temporary home. All must climb the stairs and enter. Her tired face lights with a smile as she places a bundle of groceries on a chair. She has had an all night at cleaning the house, or at officiating. "Grandma," the children call her. Her days of toll had, seemingly, ended. Years had gone. She settled down, there to end her life in peace. But her son died; then her daughter died. And to keep the children together she got work. We might easily call it sacrifice. We think it is giving something for nothing. Oh, no, the old lady is smiling. She made a bargain. She failed to win the peace that is shown by the smile.

Here is a musty old man, a professor in his books. What a lot he has written in the course of his life. Missed nothing! He hasn't sacrificed a thing. On the contrary he got just what he most wanted—knowledge and earthly contentment. He has had a full, fat, healthy, beautiful life. But he traded them all off for what he wanted most.

See that musty old man. Worry beats him. He doesn't sleep well, he distrusts every man. He traded peace and quiet and contentment for millions of dollars and a quiet life. And this is little better. We bemoan this for that; trade what we have for what we want more. Look at yourself. You are not the only one who does for instance. Every time you get off by this bartering, everything you have not, you have traded away. I'm a poor man," perhaps you say. "Yes, but you have more than that. Maybe you're lazy; maybe you drink; maybe you hate to save; maybe you're unpleasant to you; maybe you're too fond of little children; maybe you say that you can buy happiness for yourself by giving your money to others; there are 10,000 ways to get what you want. You made your bargain. You didn't sacrifice anything."

You can see then, when the big business buildings in this world is wanting ideals should be set high. You will get what you really want. You can't help it. You're going out into the world to be sure you will be getting something back. You can't stop trading in this market for life. Be not caged. Choose and exist.

Yours truly,
DR. JOS. AUG. SIROIS.

Bloodhounds on the Trail.

Major Richardson, of bloodhound-keeping fame, relates that during a recent visit to Germany some wonderful tales were told him of the powers of the Brinsford dogs who told him to his master.

In the case of a man murdered in a farm house, the dogs were taken to the scene where the episode took place. After it had seemed about the blood-stained floor the farm hands were paraded. The dog ran up to one of them, baying savagely. The man was arrested. The dogs, on being examined, his testes were found to be stained with a spot of blood. He then confessed. "I'm a son of a gun," he said. "I continue to this man, 'was the innocence of a man being proved by a suspicious man, was arrested, and as certain circumstances appeared to me to be suspicious, I arrested the dog. On being taken to the girl's room took up her trail and showed where she had walked down the stairs. Her last footprint was single in the way, and this was taken as conclusive that it was a case of suicide, not murder. No one else was in the room. I was saving a life. The man was released, and afterwards a letter was found written by the girl announcing her intention to commit suicide."

A Non-Commital "Character."

A contractor took to oblige a friend, recently a sort of "odd man" in his employ, about as shiftless and useless as some other, but, as ever, he came across. In due course the employer, his patience exhausted, called the newcomer into office and told him to be a man and a man. "Will you give me a recommendation?" asked the man, pitifully.

Although he felt that he could not conscientiously supply him with this, the man's request was too strong to be resisted. So he sat down to his desk to write a non-committal letter of character for the fellow. His effort indeed followed the best of this has worked for me one week, and I am satisfied."

It did not help the shiftless one.

Eisen's Table's Companions.

Upon Eisen's writing table a visitor saw a small tray containing a number of small pieces of dried bear, a dry stag, two or three cats or mice, a small pug (a fiddle) and some rabbits. These said, "I never tire of looking at them in remembrance without having me that tray and its occupants before me on my table. I could not write without them. But why I use them is my own secret."

Antiquity of Bells.

The art of bell founding is undoubtedly of great antiquity. The Saxons are known to have had bells in their churches, although probably but small ones, for the Venerable Bede, writing at the end of the seventh century, relates that in some of his travels he saw to show that they were not unfamiliar things. The towers of the Saxon churches were believed to consist of considerable dimensions, and indeed at Crowland Abbey, in south Lincolnshire, there was a famous peal of seven bells many years before the Norman conquest.—London Graphic

HAD SOME KNOWLEDGE OF THEM

"Do you know anything about the old Auntie?" asked the boy, looking up from the volume of Macaulay's poems which he had drawn from the Carnegie library. "She has a little," replied the boy, with a secretly adjusted four-inch green necktie. "Wasn't the eggs we had yesterday some of them days?"

A hopelessly gentle man determined to have a night with his friends against the will of his wife. He was resolved that he would go and she would not stop him. But he was not able to appear, however, and his friends, missing him, for him invaded his home. There they found him seated in his chair, with his wife sitting in the chair facing him. He had given her an opiate that he might slip away, and she had given him one that he might not.

An old man is famous. Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its great name has spread to Central America and South America, to Australia and New Zealand. That is for afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

"Miss Gibbons," began Mr. Timmud, "I thought to propose—"

"Really, Mr. Timmud?" interrupted Miss Gibbons. "I'm sorry, but—"

"Oh, I should be delighted to take—"

In the afternoon sat one of the numerous matinées of the town, the commission-er of his town's. This was an anxious hour on his face. A friend appeared and said, "What is it, Poirier?" Poirier, "I'm worried." Poirier answered, "about my son. I don't know what to say when the commission-er comes into my office again. I see, if I make him out younger than he is, he will be sent back to school, and if I make him out older, he'll be sent into the army. Now, how would you say?" Poirier said to his friend thoughtfully, "You told the commission-er his exact age?" Poirier slapped his leg and laughed delightedly. "The very thing," he cried, "I never thought of that."

JUDGED BY HIS COMPANY

"Yes, sir," said old DeSauls, "I judge a man by the company he keeps."

"Thank you," rejoined young would-be.

"Thank me!" exclaimed the old man. "Why should you thank me?"

"Excuse me," said the young man, "but I thought you had in mind the fact that I have been keeping company with your daughter for nearly a year."

When going away from home, or at any change of habitat, he is a wise man who numbers among his belongings a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Remedy and a bottle of cold water in some strange place where there are no doctors may bring on an attack of dysentery. He then has a standard remedy at hand with which to arm himself with the disorder, and forearm him can successfully fight the ailment and subdue it.

A Russian matinée sat one afternoon in the autumn matinée of the town, the commission-er of his town's. This was an anxious hour on his face. A friend appeared and said, "What is it, Poirier?" Poirier, "I'm worried." Poirier answered, "about my son. I don't know what to say when the commission-er comes into my office again. A well-known barrister, although possessed of a stately voice and a stately manner, nevertheless had a way of barking down the fee with almost savage violence in court, and he had to follow him from the salaried position he had delivered his remains in very loud tones. "Now that the noise in court has subsided," murmured the barrister, "I will tell your lordship the two sentences, the gist of the case."

Never before depicted more powerfully the expressions of professional eminence, maternal grief, fatherly hopelessness or childish helplessness. It is really as well as figuratively the most human of the world's great works of art.

Newspaper enterprise, backing modern mechanical progress, makes it possible to put this work of art into the hands of the public at this nominal cost.

Blood Poisoning Started from Wound

An Accident Which Threatened Worst Results Until DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT was Applied

No wound or hurt but has most serious possibilities unless antiseptic treatment is applied to prevent blood poisoning.

Lives are often saved by having at hand a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Its antiseptic properties prevent blood poisoning, and it is sure remedium for healing that cuts and sores brought about.

This case will interest you, Mrs. C. Hopkins, St. George, Ont., writes:

"I feel like shouting the praises of Dr. Chase's Ointment. One day last year while washing my son I accidentally hurt by breaking the prongs of a fork into his leg. In a day or two it began to get very sore and blood poisoning set in. We did everything for him but it would not heal in one place and hurt in another. This kept on for three months, while we got a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. 'In a week or two' the skin was mended, the wound cleaned, and by using three boxes he was cured completely. He has had no return of the trouble. My husband was cured of a bad case of piles by the uses of two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is a wonderful ointment."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful in many ways in every home. While a great reputation has been made as a cure for ectema and piles there is not a case of itching or irritated skin disease in which it will not bring relief.

The better you become acquainted with Dr. Chase's Ointment, the better will you appreciate its wonderful soothing healing qualities. Any drug-store dealer, Johnson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

At first you do not get satisfaction results with the Quinine Pads. You don't blame the Pads, they are all right, every one of them, and remember this—that you must insist upon their excellent quality. And this reputation they have maintained for these pads must always stand at the head of the list of standards and preparations.

Voice From the Cradle

Up from the cradle came a wail—at first a pensive one, and then up to a high pitch screech of mountaineous, it goes in a pell-mell strain. He has grown in a prolific strain, but has not yet learned to sing his new aeronautical man's in her racing car.

There are millions of packets of Wilson's Fly Pads sold every year, and every Pad will kill every fly that drinks the poisoned liquid from it.

A small boy entered a grocer's shop and asked, in a hesitating manner, "Oh, do you sell Wilson's Fly Pads? Is it safe?" asked the assistant. "Well, if you were told to get?" The boy looking with a worried expression at the grocer. "Yes, but they are both dark-yellow," said the grocer. There was a painful pause. Then the youngster burst out, "Oh, bother it, it's the stuff you make tea with!"

Faultless in Preparation.—Unlike any other stomach regulator, Unique Vegetable Pads are the result of years of scientific research and calculation to stimulate the stomachic functions and maintain them at the normal condition. Years of use have proved their excellent character.

And this reputation they have maintained for these pads must always stand at the head of the list of standards and preparations.

It is awful for the youngest child to get spoiled, and that's why the family think they don't do it, but they do.

In thirty years there has never been both of Wilson's Fly Pads sold in such quantities as in the first year. They were in the houses, and the housekeeper followed the pads and got them to the pads.

She shuddered—stricken with "That's my new summer but in the chair there. What are you doing, George?"

He sneekly—"I'm sitting on the style, Mary."

Sir George's Future in Danger.—With Sir George—W. Ross, recently knighted, he received a characteristic telegram from his friend, T. C. Irving, general manager of Bradstreet's, from Winnipeg, where the telegram read: "Mr. Irving's telegram read: 'Sir George—W. Ross, June 27, 1910. Sir George W. Ross, one."

"Congratulations upon your being created a knight by His Majesty. Have a care, however, for it is not clearly stated in Holt Writ that subsequently a knight and a peerage are to be granted by the author of the knight. Bish when referring to the Kingdom of Heaven, there shall be no knight there." T. C. Irving."

Sir George replied: "Dear Mr. Irving:

"Your telegram received and congratulations duly acknowledged. To no one, sir, will you should update the Biblical and historical knowledge at this time. I think I shall have to refer the matter to Dr. Milligan for explanation."

Gregg and the Great West.

Old Time Journalist Says Few Believe in It in the Seventies.

The late Al. Gregg, the old-time journalist, who personally well known from Toronto clear through to Dawson City, had but been giving some interesting reminiscences illustrative of early pioneer life in the mountains of the remote Northwest, especially during the '70s, a thrilling story in which two Winnipeg men figured.

In a wild spot along the National Transcontinental Railroad, some miles east of Winnipeg, two men and a dog, while hunting, discovered two great birds circling overhead. They followed them, and observed a nest high in a great tree. When they approached the location the birds had flown down upon them. The ferocity of such a party and such a journey were odd or unique, but at that time, and especially of a week and a dog, of the most remarkable variety, and that there were eaglets in the nest.

The hunters carried rifles and prepared to shoot, but when they could not get a position where he could command the nest with his gun, the other climbed a tree. Twenty shots were fired at the birds as they swooped down upon them.

The attack convinced the hunters that the birds had some nestlings.

Winnipeg Men Capture Rare Birds

The most remarkable bird of prey in North America, which has practically disappeared from the most inaccessible recesses of isolated sections of the remote Northwest, especially in the interior of the West, during the last two decades, is a

Pain Almost Drove Him Wild

Disease Defied Treatment Was Cured by "Fruit-a-tives."

Mr. H. Marchessault, High Constable of the Province of Quebec, who lives at St. Hyacinthe, thought he was going to be disabled for life.

He was in terrible pain in the back kept him in the house and under the doctor's care for months. Nothing seemed to give relief.

Then he tried "Fruit-a-tives," the famous fruit medicine. Note the results.

—"Fruit-a-tives" cured me of chronic pain in the back that was so severe I had to give up my horse," writes Mr. Marchessault.

Al. G. Barnes' Circus

Didsbury is to be favored with two performances of the Al. G. Barnes' big three ring Wild Animal Circus on Thursday, September 8th. This circus has been playing at all the big fairs in the Province and has drawn big houses wherever they have shown. At Edmonton last week the shows were packed from early morning until late at night every day for a week, and those who attended were loud in their praise of the performances. The show has 200 trained animals, three steel girded arenas and gives 21 sensational wild animal acts. Popular prices will prevail to allow all to see one of the most wonderful wild animal circuses on the road.

200 Dead

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 27.—Teleggraphic communication with the St. Joe valley of Idaho was restored today for the first time since the forest fires became serious but it is as yet impossible to verify the reports of the large loss of life among the fire fighters, additional to the 86 reported dead by government officials. The estimate of approximately 200 dead in the whole fire is adhered to by those most familiar with the situation. Eighty are missing.

The Manitoba Free Press estimates that there will be a total of 101,236,413 bushels of wheat in the Province this year. This is credited as follows: Spring wheat, 5,370,013 bushels; winter wheat, 1,955,784 bushels; oats, 16,249,200 bushels; barley, 2,207,250 bushels; flax, 91,050 bushels.

The August number of "The Athletic World," a new name for "Ontario Canada" magazine, has just been received at this office. Since this publication was taken over by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., each issue has shown a marked improvement over its predecessor. Its change of policy to that of a national athletic periodical is this month carried out both in title and in nature. Besides the change of title the size has been increased and the contents augmented. Judging by the August number, full as it is of good, up to date reading pertaining to things athletic, a conspicuous place is assured "The Athletic World" among the leading Canadian national publications.

Weak Kidneys Make Weak Bodies

Kidney Disease Causes Half the Common Aches and Ills of Didsbury People

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overstrain, strain, cold and other causes injuring the kidneys, while their activity is lessened, the whole body suffers from the excess of urine poison circulated in the blood.
Aches and pains and languor and urinary illness, all these are the result of increased desire towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Booth's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill.

Mrs. Jane Falery, of 569 Pacific avenue,
Winnipeg, Man., says:

"I am sufficiently crippled with rheumatism in my right hip and terrible pains across my back for years. I am more than pleased to say that Booth's Kidney Pills have cured me."

The rheumatic pains in my hip were so severe that I could not lie on my right hip at all and could hardly lie in bed. My back was so weak and painful after a few days of Booth's Kidney Pills that I could not stand for more than a few moments, and when I would attempt to do so,

I could scarcely bear the pain that would shoot all through me. I had tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing gave me any relief. Booth's Kidney Pills have done their work well in my case, and I shall always have a good word of praise for them." For

Do Not Knock

One knocker can tear down more than three busters can build up in your town. People are always more willing to circulate a damaging story than to tell something good—so when we get clear down to the bottom of the thing, boosting your business or your town is pretty largely a personal matter.

If you know something real mean about your competitor, just sit down and write it all out just as though you were writing a letter, fold up the paper, place it in an envelope and do not mail it again for a week—then take it out and read it all over carefully, and see how little and mean and screw it makes you feel to think that you wrote that thing. Then just use the same principle when taking up a project if you know something that you know certain people would delight in hearing and telling, just keep it to yourself it will do you a lot of good—Commercial.

England's Interest in Q. O. R.

The army is looking forward with the keenest interest to the arrival of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto. Every preparation is being made for their reception at Rishworth Green. The first division takes them over to Rishworth, thence field training uninterrupted till Sept. 1. Previously some easy entertainment will be offered in London. The government is making arrangements for the regiment to visit the tower of London and King George will probably inspect them at Buckingham palace.

The New Postage Stamps

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—It is understood that while in London, en route to South Africa, Hon. Rudolph Lehoux will confer with the British postal authorities in reference to the new issue of postage stamps necessitated by the accession of King George V.

No date has yet been fixed for the issuance of the new stamps but it is believed that an agreement will be arrived at by which new stamps will be issued simultaneously in the United Kingdom and the Dominions and dependencies probably in June next, the coronation month. Mr. Lehoux will probably submit designs for new Canadian stamps to the King in person.

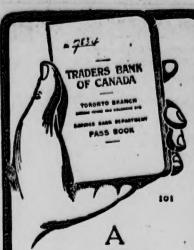

Dogs and Ponies

The mutual superiority of men over beasts will interestingly and uniquely be exemplified in the Dogue's World's best dog and pony shows, which will exhibit in this city over two days, waterproof tents on Friday, Sept. 1.

It is an entertainment in which women and children will, and a peculiar delight, and one that will interest and amuse everyone. There are over 1000 animals in the show, the pretty Shetlands and dogs performing many difficult feats.

Among the features will be a military display by 40 ponies. The dog Blondin will walk a high slack rope, carrying a companion on his back. Leaping ponies and boxes, dog equestrians, the somersault and boxing dogs, together with the greatest troupe of trained goats ever seen.

Editor Watt, of Edmonton, went through a week down in Michigan. He probably won't mind it very much as he has likely witnessed that awful printshop tragedy known as pied form—Calgary Herald.
